SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 1, 1866.

Obeying their State.

The Copperhead theory of the late rebellion is that they who inaugurated that conflict and carried it on against the authority of the Government did no wrong, because they simply obeyed the commands of their respective States which claimed the first allegiance of all their citizens. On one side was the authority of the State claiming to be supreme, and on the other side was the authority of the General Government, asserting also its supremacy. The argument from this statement is that the citizen had the option of obeying either the one or the other as he chose, and that it was no more wrong for him to adhere to his State and fight against the General Government than it would have been for him to adhere to the General Government and fight against his State. This argument is pointed to as a wonderful achievement of the human intellect and as affording a complete exculpation for all those who engaged in the rebellion. Clad in this armor the Copperhead imagines himself quite invulnerable, and swaggers with the insolence of one who believes himself prepared to overcome every opponent. Sometimes he goes so far as to challenge all his adversaries to combat him on this, his chosen ground.

Powerful and conclusive as this argument is supposed to be, a very few words will suffice to explode it. A party of turbulent men array themselves in hostility to the Government of the Union, and when called to an account for what they have done, attempt to excuse themselves by throwing the whole blame on the State. They first push their State into an attitude of hostility to the national authority, and then claim that the State is solely responsible for what they have done. Men vote their State out of the Union and then say it has called upon them to resist the General Government. They first resolve that the State shall go out, and then say that the State has called them out. They shift upon the State the whole responsibility for what they have themselves done. They perpetrate the whole mischief, and then say that the State has done it. What they call the voice of their State which they feel bound to obey, is their own voice, their own mandate. The Virginia Convention voted that State out of the Union, secretly, fraudulently and by night; and now the members of that Convention come up and say that they only followed their State! Heard ever any one an equal piece of absurdity? A party of men get possession of a State government and use its machinery for the purpose of making war on the Government of the Union, and when accused of treason, take shelter behind the impersonality of the State, and assert that they only obeyed its mandates. They issue a command, and then say their State has commanded them. And this is the defense that is made for the rebellion! What an individual does of his own choice and on his own responsibility, he charges upon the State. He aids to carry his State out of the Union, and then says that his State having guns out and beckoned to him to follow, he cannot disobey. He pretends to follow, when he actually leads. His offense is his own, and one for which he is individually responsible, and it is not lessened but aggravated by his using the machinery of State government to accomplish his object. What rebels called obeying their State was simply obeying their own inclinations and purposes to overthrow the Government of the Union.

New York and Illinois.

The official vote of New York is counted. The vote for Fenton, for Governor, is 369,153; for Hoffman, 354,491. Fenton's majority is therefore 14,642, and the entire vote of the State is 723,624. The vote for Fenton is larger by about 400 than Lincoln's vote in 1864; while the vote for Hoffman is smaller by 7,495 than the vote for McClellan. This result will appear the more significant when it is remembered that Hoffman's majority in the city of New York was about 11,000 greater than the majority for McClellan in the same city two years ago. The figures develop the fact that there have been immense Union gains in the interior of the State. They also show that the Democrats continue to increase their majorities year after year in the slums of the great cities; while they lose in about an equal proportion where the people are surrounded by the purer atmosphere and the purer morals of the country.

The official vote of Illinois for Congressman at large gives Logan, Union, 208,275, and Dickey, Democrat, 147,163. Logan has therefore 58,107 majority in a total vote of 350,443. The vote for Logan is greater by 13,769 than the vote for Lincoln in 1864, while the Democratic vote this year is smaller by 11,562 than the vote for McClellan two years ago. The figures show the absurdity and falsity of the claim of the Democrats that their party is growing stronger and increasing its aggregate vote. That party will never again gain a triumph, as at present organized. Its only chance is to disband, throw overboard its present leaders, abandon its present dogmas, take up new issues and become a progressive party. Its old doctrines have become stale, flat and unprofitable, and its old stock in trade is decidedly overworn.

An Unprofitable Sort of Discussion.

"The Radical Congress," so not a few continue to assert, "has pursued a course which is arbitrary, unjustifiable and revolutionary." Have those carpers forgotten that the people have spoken on this subject? The decision of the people, rendered in the manner the law prescribes, is authoritative and final. The people have said that Congress was right. That settles the question. Before their decision was rendered it was proper enough to dispute about politics; but now that the matters in dispute have been passed upon by the ultimate tribunal, all must submit. The case is closed, and if re-opened, it must be referred to the same tribunal again.

Experience has shown that it is useless for politicians to go on refining about the powers of Congress in the premises. The people have decided that Congress has the power and the right to do what it has undertaken to perform. The subtleties of politicians are not heeded. The people go straight at the end they seek to attain. The dispute as to whether the revolted States are in or out of the Union, and the thousand other fine points that are raised and discussed by those who seek to render the whole subject obscure, are quite unprofitable. There are no precedents by which to settle the case. The people must and will settle it to suit their views of the public necessity and the public welfare.

George William Curtis is being put forward as a candidate for Senator from New York. No better selection could be made. He has a national reputation for scholarship, political sagacity and statesman-like endowments. He is the editorial writer for Harper's Weekly.

NEBRASKA.—Official returns give John Tate, Union, 750 majority for Congress. There is nineteen Union majority on joint-ballot in the Legislature. This is a large gain.

PLEASANT QUARTERS.—A letter from a Brazilian officer describes some of the beauties of soldiering in South America:

Amphibious creatures abound. In my own tent I have already killed four snakes. Every morning I find myself accompanied by a body-guard of fifteen or twenty monstrous toads, which have quietly spent the night under the corners of the hides that serve me as a bed. Enormous alligators promenade regularly every night from lake to lake. In a Major's tent, the other day, one was killed that measured about six feet in length, and an unfortunate Brazilian soldier was unexpectedly taken of his legs and carried into the nearest lake.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO NOVEMBER 27.

Commercial Report.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Money is a shade easier. Stocks show a general advance. Government securities are higher, with increased business. Flour 15@25c lower. Wheat 2@3c lower. Weekly bank statement shows a decrease in loans of $3,360,000; decrease in specie of $360,000; decrease in legal tenders, $1,000,000; increase in deposits, $830,000; increase in circulation $127,000.

The Post says the recent storm has passed off, but it has left behind a league which checks business. Government stocks have advanced from ½ to 1¼ cents above lowest quotations of Saturday, and they are very promising investments. Breadstuff for flour is still at 5@6c lower, closing heavy at 11.55@13.14. Wheat is dull and heavy at 2@3c lower. No. 1 Milwaukie is quoted at 2.00.

The Claims on England.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Nothing definite has yet been received from the British Government in relation to claims for indemnity growing out of depredations committed on our commerce by the Alabama and other rebel privateers. Correspondence is still in progress between the two Governments. The present British minister, however, shows a better disposition than the former one in the consideration of this important subject.

Fenian Matters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Recent news from Ireland has caused great excitement at headquarters of James Stephens in this city, and offices are now thronged from morning to midnight. Stephens disappeared a few days since and is not expected to show himself again. It is claimed that money, arms and ammunition are coming in, and that the California Fenians have pledged $10,000.

A Montreal telegram says the Canadian authorities have had information that Stephens is not en route for Ireland, but is organizing an expedition against Canada. Troops have been ordered to garrison Fort Erie and all other exposed points.

China Mail Line.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—The second steamship of the new line between San Francisco and China will be launched in a few weeks, and two others of equal dimensions will be built as soon as possible.

Suits against Gen. Butler.

Two lawsuits have been commenced in the Supreme Court against Gen. Butler, in which John Lester, resident of the city, charges him with false imprisonment and with the fraudulent confiscation of property; damages levied at $50,000. Lester, it will be remembered, received a pass from Secretary Stanton to bring his family from the South during this late war.

Somebody Married.

Alfred Bierstadt, artist, has married Mrs. Rosalie Osborne, late wife of Hiz Hugh Laullow, from whom she obtained a divorce but last year.

STATE ITEMS.

Mr. D. F. Dowell, of Jackson county, started last week for Washington City on business.

Dr. Ganung, of Jacksonville, has been appointed Post Surgeon at Fort Klamath.

D. M. C. Gault has assumed the editorial charge of the Jacksonville Sentinel. He makes a good paper.

From information from all parts of the State, says the Sentinel, we think we are safe in saying that there is not a county that leads Jackson in the amount and value of improvements, amongst the farming community. On all sides are to be seen new fences and new buildings. The farmers are not only taking up new land, while their enclosures, but are repairing their old fences. Nor does the spirit of improvement stop there; but new and improved farming implements are being added to the former supply of tools. Aside from quite a number of harvesting machines, we hear of farmers supplying themselves with sulky-plows and cultivators. When we see such substantial progress among the farmers, we are certain that we are on the sure road to prosperity.

LATE DISPATCHES.—The following dispatches are dated New York, November 19th:

The Post's special dispatch says that the facts divulged to-day show there is but little hope that the President will recommend impartial suffrage in his Message to Congress. He will stand with the Secretary of the Treasury on the financial question.

The Commercial says it is confidently expected that a reconstruction policy will be unicely settled early in the approaching session of Congress. Negotiations for that purpose are in progress between the President and leading politicians of all parties North and South. The basis of settlement is universal suffrage and general amnesty. The President has partially acceded to the proposition, but insists, upon constitutional grounds, that the question of universal suffrage properly belongs to the respective States, and is, so far, averse to any action of Congress upon the subject. If assurance can be obtained from Southern leaders of the speedy adoption of universal suffrage, the President will waive his objections. The proposed basis contemplates an abandonment of the Constitutional Amendment as a condition to Southern representation in Congress.

THE CANADIAN CONFEDERATION.—The united population of Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and Prince Edward's Island, in January, 1864, was 3,618,151. The public revenues amounted to $13,284,963 annually. The expenditure was $12,507,000. The extent of the public domain which has passed into private hands was 45,638,854 acres, of which, however, only 13,128,288 acres were under cultivation. The area not granted or sold, but nominally belonging to the Crown, and under the control of the Colonial Legislatures, is 214,282,817. The annual value of the agricultural products of the United Provinces is $150,000,000, and the assessed value of the farms, $550,000,000.

The Marysville Appeal says: "L. Q. Washington is editor of the Richmond Examiner. B. F. Washington is editor of the San Francisco Examiner. Their editorials are much alike. Are they brothers?"

The Albany Journal says that Morrissey can't be counted on as a party man when it comes to "a division," because men of his profession "go at the eyes and nose with equal gusto."

In selecting a Sewing Machine beware to combine the ornamental with the useful. A machine which will both sew and embroider is a perpetual delight. The Grover & Baker Machine is perfect in both these respects. This is the only machine which both sews and embroiders. WM. CURTNER & CO., 103 Front street, agents.

MOTHERS.—Don't be afraid to administer Newell's Pulmonary Syrup to your children. It is free from opium and every hurtful compound.

COUGHS.—As a soothing Pectoral Brown's Bronchial Troches are advantageously employed to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and Bronchial affections. Those exposed to sudden changes of weather should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket, and taken as occasion requires upon the first appearance of a cold or cough.

ANDREW JOHNSON'S POLICY is creating a great excitement among politicians, but the people in general follow that policy which is most to their benefit, therefore buy all their Clothing, Boots, Shoes, etc., at the St. Louis store No. 111 Front street, which KOHN & FISHEL sell at such extreme low prices, it being their policy to please the most fastidious.

THE SPHINX.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 89 First street, (Postoffice Block) have just received information that by an imperial order, artists are engaged in taking photographic views of the Egyptian Sphinx, the Pyramids and other relics of antiquity. Of course the firm are not geographically situated to obtain views of existing monuments of that wonderful people who flourished three thousand years before the Christian era, but they are fully able to execute the most BEAUTIFUL PICTURES of the human face and form. SUN PEARLS, CARDS and all other styles taken in any kind of weather.

MARVEL LOUISA once thought he saw the devil in his chamber, and threw an ink-stand at his head. Had they had in those days AYER'S PILLS to exorcise all the devils that come from a disordered stomach, his laugh able fright would not have become a matter of history.

WILL OUT.—In Thursday's OREGONIAN, we
the fact that Wilson's evidence the day before, the case of the State vs. Swift, had developed some thing new in the Lambert-Rives robbery and the recent robbery of Mrs. Lambert's house. If Wilson's evidence can be relied on, and it is supported by circumstances within the knowledge of the public—it clears up whatever of mystery there was before about the latter transaction.
Before giving the evidence of Wilson, it may be well to recur briefly to the history of the Rives affair.
In September, 1865, James Lambert and one Lambert were arrested in East Portland, charged with robbing Thos. R. Rives of $1,800, and with Lambert forfeits keeping. The public, at the time, was pretty well satisfied that Lambert burned his own house to conceal the robbery, but both he and his wife protested their innocence of both charges. Mrs.
Lambert was bailed, but Lambert lay in jail for some time when he got bail in the sum of $500. Neither was tried at the following November term of the Court in consequence of a defect in the indictment, but both were held to bail to await the next term. A few days afterwards, Lambert came out with plenty of money, but being called upon by his attorneys and others for his story where he got it, he said he borrowed it of a female friend—A Mrs Jackson, on Washington street—a plausible story, which received credit with no one. After this became known Lambert declined to be responsible any longer for his appearance and he was again thrown into confinement.
At the February term in 1866 the charge was again submitted to the Grand Jury, who found a true bill against both of these, but both asserted their entire innocence.
This case was kept till the very day before the trial, when Lambert came out with the robbery and when the case was taken up by the court he pleaded guilty and was thereupon sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Lambert was discharged, the Prosecuting Attorney thinking the evidence insufficient to convict her. During all the time she pleaded extreme poverty, went about begging and received from numerous persons considerable sums of money on her representations that her labor would not procure the necessaries of life for herself and children. This was continued until the day after the trial, when she paid over to that she had been robbed of $540, and charged John Mack with the crime. Mack was arrested, examined by the Recorder and committed. Within the next day or two the Grand Jury examined the charge and discharged the man. Harry Swift was afterwards indicted for the same charge, and in the trial of this case, Wilson, then in jail, was called to testify for defendant. His evidence was substantially as follows: The morning after Mack was released on bail he came to the conclusion that he was in a tight place. To get out of it, he and a fellow prisoner, named Kennovan, made up a plot together, which was to get Wilson, to charge Swift with the robbery of Mrs. Lambert. Mack was to turn States evidence while he did, provide the Indictment of Swift.
Mack was to testify that on the day of the robbery he (Mack) and Swift were at Mrs. Lambert's house; that Swift showed very much excited and asked Mack if he had a file and thread; that he (Mack) got one of a box and went to the bed-room where Swift was; that they entered him to sew up the bed-ticks; that Swift then stated that he (Swift) had taken Mrs. Lambert's money, and that it was as much his as hers, at the same time presenting a pistol to his (Mack's) head; that Swift then took a Catholic prayer-book from his pocket and made him (Mack) swear that he would never reveal what he had seen; that he (Mack) took the oath two or three times, but still failing him that he would see him (Mack) through,
and would pay his attorney's fees if arrested. This was the plot and Kennovan stood up to fasten the crime on Swift, and it is substantially what Mack swore to in court. Wilson was then appealed to by the prisoners if he knew if such evidence would convict Swift. It was not in the course of the talk between them in the jail that the amount stolen from Mrs. Lambert was over $1,200—and of $540—the amount she complained of having lost. The question is what reasonable doubt exists in the minds of Rives' money all the time, and that she had the use of begging, to disarm suspicion. Whatever may be done to further sift the matter, the public have enough of it now to feel certain that justice has not overtaken all who deserved punishment, in connection with the late robberies.

FLEEING RUNAWAY.—The two-horse team of Mr.
Taylor, wood-dealer, got frightened at something, yesterday, while standing on the Lincoln House wharf, and started to run away. At the first dash they ran the wagon against the fence to which they were secured, upset it, and, breaking the tongue off about two feet back of the neck yoke. They then cleared the wharf, in spite of efforts to stop them, and ran up Washington street at full speed, the broken tongue plowing a gutter through the mud and putting the horses' feet in imminent danger as it over and anon struck them in the fearful race. About half-way between First and Second the wagon was upset and almost immediately the double-tree was detached from the wagon, and the horses went on their mad career unimpeded.
At the corner of Third street, the off horse ran against and capsized a wagon which was upset by the shock, the horse went over and over almost like a ball, striking prone on his side in the mud,
where he lay perfectly still for some moments, either unable or too much astonished, to get up. However, after he was induced to gotup, when an investigation took place, the results of the campaign, disclosed but one team or wagon.

DISTRICT COURT.—SHARLOCK, JUDGE.—The proceedings in this Court on Friday, were as follows:

Jacob Mayer vs. Jacob Conner—order and decree requiring defendant to convey certain lands to plaintiff, or in default of conveyance from defendant to the Sheriff, of lots 4 and 5 in Block No. 1, Caruthers' Addition to City of Portland.

Virginia E. Harris vs. Stephen N. Harris; suit for divorce on the ground of desertion—a decree of divorce granted.

Nancy Layfield vs. David Layfield; suit for divorce on the ground of cruel treatment and failure to provide means of support—decree entered and plaintiff given custody and guardianship of children.

Byron A. Young vs. Thomas Burbank; appeal from county court; action to recover money lost on a horse race last 4th of July—claim, $200; jury trial.

Estate of Ritzema vs. John George, Kellich et al; sale of leases and lease of reversion, lot 8, block 5, city of Portland approved and confirmed.

HOUSE FOR OUR TENANT.—We have made a discovery,
to-day: that sleeping around after Hanis and getting them out of the way, is not the most desirable business that we can think of, in such weather as we have had recently.
Having called to see Mr. Hanis on business, too many for comfort, and what chance has an overcoat or cloak against the sugar of two such gods as Kolus and Nother fellow the power out water from an urn upon the Earth, by the Department? It is a wonder with us how the wizard it, and why they will persist in dispensing

[illegible]—The following is the text of General order announcing the Headquarters of the De-from Fort Vancouver to Portland. It was isat San Francisco, November 17th:

"By the authority of Gen. Grant, on the ap-of Maj.-Gen. Steele, the Headquarters of the Deof Columbia are hereby transferred from , W. T., to Portland, Oregon." By the same order, the 1st squadron of the 5th U. S. Cavalry, a part of which is now stationed at this Department, and consisting of Company's Boniface barracks, California, and Co. Edwin V. Sumner, Capt. 1st U. S. Cavalry, to the temporary command, until a field
officer of the regiment shall arrive from the East.

Mr. Wallace, formerly connected with the Herald, of Victoria, and afterward the founder of the Colonist, in the British Columbia capital, is daily awaiting the California steamer. He is making a visit to his native country. Mr.
has a most hopeful prospects of our perfect for the immediate future, although he confidently expects a reaction after awhile. We are indebted to him for a package of Victoria papers.

The ——, steamer, which arrived Thursday, was detained in Neah bay for nine days by bad weather—gales blowing from the southeast. The vessel was finally protected by the high mountains which run down from the Coast Range to very near the shore of Cape Flattery, but the passengers found nothing but sea-sickness, though all spoke in high terms of Capt. Erskin's attentions and efforts to relieve the tedium of the delay.

LOST POWER.—Mrs. Prior won that beautiful picture at the Catholic fair, entitled "The meeting of the Waters."
Mr. Bowers, of the Herald, won the other large picture, entitled "Dunkeld." Mr. Douglas won the sewing machine. There were numerous other prizes made happy by lucky numbers. We drew nothing ourselves, Agassiz and dreggy-drawn sigh at drawing nothing. But the fair was a splendid affair—we won't lose much.

PASSENGERS LIST.—The Eddyfitter brought up the following passengers: Caroline Arduz, Geo Wallace, Sarah Wells, Mrs. Bole, Isabella Phelps, V. Bigan, T.
Smith, Wm. Thomas, A. Montgomery, Delong, S. Montgomery, Capt
Jones, Mrs Mc Millegan and daughter, L. Fredovich, A Fredovich, Levy & Furbor, E. Richardson, John
Wood, [illegible], A. Mason, G. Hansell, J. Fotheringham, [illegible], H. Paton, M. Glenn, D. Glenn, M. Cornelius, and 35 Chinamen.

WHEAT.—Exports.—On Thursday, the Scepter
brought down 14 half barrels, 17 boxes goods, 310 sacks
wheat, 95 sacks bacon, 17 cases lard, 703 boxes apples, 1,000 sacks flour, 16 barrels lard, 1 horse, 4 packages goods, 3 bales wool, 1 [illegible] goods, 3 packages trees, 1 case goods and 1 mule. Yesterday she brought down 654 sacks flour, 200 sacks feed, 300 sacks flour and feed, 27 boxes fruit,
66 horse apples, 36 sacks screenings and 1 bundle.

OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING.—The usual Thanksgiving [illegible] took place at the various churches on Thursday. The greater number of business places were closed and our people betook themselves to the enjoyment of the day. We heard of quite a number of very happy reunions and dinners in the old-fashioned style, where old friends "picked a bone" together, and partook in the most social mood.

SAME RACE.—Mr. O'Connor, the popular proprietor of the What Cheer House of this city, intends to leave for the East by the first of January next. Mr. O'Connor has for years been the landlord of the What Cheer House and is one of our most [illegible] business men. We regret his departure, as he is one of the few men who know how to keep a hotel. See his advertisement in another column.

PORTLAND PREACHING.—W. W. Harper—we are sorry
we don't know Harper—announces a lecture at Oregon City, December 8th, on the subject of "Politics and the preaching of the gospel." We are charitable enough to presume Harper has a new tune to harp on this favorite theme of his—and strings, which may be worth hearing.

LA GRANDE ADVERTISEMENT.—D. Steinheiser, of La Grande, Oregon, advertises in another column; a new and [illegible] stock of general merchandise. Read his

VERY WELL SAID.—The Sacramento Bee quotes the following from the OREGONIAN: "The race between Whisky and Misfortune, for $300 a side, and set for Monday next,
was yesterday drawn."

The Bee then adds: "We think there must be some mistake here—the race between Whisky and Misfortune has not been drawn—on the contrary, the it runs every day, and a more even race, in the long run, will never be seen."

FREIGHT LIST.—The following is the Eddyfitter's freight list:—9 Mounnettes, 5 tons pig iron, B N, 23 pkgs; A W
S, 1 pkg; N & B, 103 pkgs; Mrs Bellings, 1 pkg; S & Co,
1 pkg; A B R, 7 pkgs; P B S, 1 pkg; diamond J M, 2
pkgs; W, 231 pkgs; XXX, 2 pkgs; R M, 1 pkg; Kenner,
1 pkg; H C & Co, 32 tons coal; H Macdonnell, 1 pkg; H
Lewis, 11 pkgs.

November 18th, at 12 M. At G. A. Wyckoff to anchor at Neah Bay, fresh gales from south-east. At D P. M., November 20th, left Neah Bay. At 7 A. M. November 20th, crossed Columbia river bar; arrived at Astoria at 2 P. M.; at 11 A. M., left Astoria and arrived at Portland at 12 midnight.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTION.—The Annual election for Chief Engineer and two Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department, will take place on Monday next, at the House of Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., and closing at 4 P. M. Messrs. E. J.
Northrup, W. J. Leonard and W. G. Ballard constitute the board of judges.

NOT LOST.—Our information in regard to the loss of the schooner Champion proves to have been erroneous.
She was blown ashore in Tillamook bay but was got off again at high tide without any considerable damage. A letter from Tillamook, dated the 23d, speaks of the Champion as being just ready to sail, the storm having subsided.

ANOTHER FAIR IN PROSPECTIVE.—It will be seen by advertisement, that a Fair and Festival will take place at Oro Fino Hall on the 13th, under the management of the ladies of the M. E. Church of Portland. The fair which closed Wednesday, was very successful, and under the auspices announced, the coming one cannot well fail of being equally so.

MAN OVERBOARD.—A man named Driscol, employed on the Scanlon, yesterday saw a man fall overboard, being suddenly moved thereto by a line which caught his leg.
Driscol instantly came up and made the discovery that he, himself, was the "man overboard." After being helped out, he was asked how he felt. "Very wet," was all Driscol had to say.

RECORDER'S COURT—HOFFMAN, JUDGE.—On Thursday, 29th, Sam. Dobbins was brought up, charged with an assault and battery upon James Mills, with a pitch-fork.
The hearing was continued till next Wednesday. The parties live in Washington county, and the delay was necessary to enable them to prepare for trial.

AUCTION TO-DAY.—We call attention again to the extensive sale to-day of real estate, by Kilbourn. For particulars go and hear Kilbourn's opening speech, at 10 o'clock this morning, on the premises opposite the O. S.
N. Co.'s wharf.

CHANGE OF HOUR.—We are requested to state that the hour of morning service on Sundays at St. Stephen's Chapel—Rt. Rev. Bishop Scott's church—has been changed to 11 o'clock.

THANKS.—Capt. Erskine, of the Eddyfitter, has our thanks for files of Victoria papers. They were, rather aged in dates, in consequence of the Eddyfitter's prolonged stay in Neeah Bay, but that was no fault of the captain's.

SURGEON FOR FORT KLAMATH.—Dr. James Stephens, jr., goes to Fort Klamath as acting Assistant Surgeon. He left yesterday to overtake Capt. Kelly, and will accompany the expedition.

NO COURT.—The Circuit Court did not meet on Thanksgiving day, the court, bar, jurors, officers and witnesses being otherwise and more pleasantly engaged.

TO SAIL.—The Eddyfitter will leave Couch & Flanders' wharf for Victoria on Sunday at 9 o'clock A. M.

THE ORIFLAMME.—This steamer leaves will San Francisco
for Portland to-day.

GONE TO SEA.—The Salisbury went to sea from Astoria on Tuesday the 27th.

NOT SO BAD.—The net profits of the late Catholic Fair, are stated at about $1,500.

pending their surplus bits and dollars in liquids which ish coverings for the head in the shape of Hats and Caps,

Consumption like the Rattle-Snake, always gives warning of its approach. A hacking cough, dull pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, are then indications that there is more or less irritation of the Mucous Lungs. If this be neglected, and go on until pustules are formed, followed by tubercles, which sometimes eat the blood vessels, Death will be the result. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will heal all the irritated parts, allay the inflammation, removing the phlegm and matter, thus stopping the cough and prevent final Consumption. Valuable Farm for Sale.
THAT VALUABLE FARM, KNOWN AS THE McDONALD FARM, situated five miles south of Dayton, Yamhill County, is offered for sale. The farm consists of about 320 acres, one-half of which is under cultivation, and the balance is covered with a heavy growth of fir timber. About one-half of the cultivated land is under good fence. On the premises are a good Frame House and Barn and a large fine Orchard, with an abundance of good water, excellent oak timber and a fine grove of fir. The farm is situated in a healthy and pleasant neighborhood. There is a good level road leading from it to Dayton, a point reached by steamboats the whole year. Altogether, it is one of the most desirable locations in the district. Any one desiring a farm will find one to suit in this place. Please call upon or address the undersigned at Dayton, Yamhill County, Oregon.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeits or imitations of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can decisively nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of consumers, the more flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

From the Sandwich Islands.

Dates from Honolulu are to the 3d November. The Commercial Advertiser of October 27th says:

We learn that the reported accident on Kaul by which seven persons were killed, proves correct. A large party of natives were out at Anahoin early in the morning, but most of them returned home when the sun came up. About 10 o'clock the seven persons killed were sitting on the beach under the precipice, which suddenly fell and buried them all. Three other natives were slightly wounded, but escaped. Most of those killed were employed on the plantation at Hanalei. When the accident became known, Mr. Dowe proceeded at once to search for the bodies and inter them. The natives, however, maintained that they were sufficiently buried as it was; and proposed to let them remain where they were. Mr. D. searched for, recovered and buried all the victims of this unfortunate accident.

A short time since Capt. Baby, in company with Minister Hutchinson and Capt. Brown, made an excursion to the bar and outer anchorage, to ascertain from actual observation the depth of the water. It was nearly low tide. On the passage out Capt B. made the soundings himself, and we are informed in no place found less than twenty-three and a half feet. On the return, he steered the boat, under directions from Capt. Brown, and a straight course was made from a given point in the offing, being the track that the steamers and large vessels should take, and the same result was obtained—twenty-three and a half feet. As our tide rises and falls some eighteen or twenty inches, this would give about twenty-five feet on the bar at full tide, which is depth enough for the largest ocean or other steamers that have ever been here. The result of this investigation is very satisfactory, and there certainly can be no obstacle to the largest vessels of the China line stopping here at any season of the year, and proceeding to sea again, deeply loaded with coal and merchandise.

The United States Government performed a noble act towards the Hawaiian nation, when it directed Admiral Thatcher to escort Queen Emma, and designated his flagship, to be the bearer of Her Majesty to her native shore. It was the most conspicuous act of kindness and respect which could possibly shown. The ship left San Francisco on the morning of the 13th of October, and about 9 o'clock on the morning of the 22d was signalled, and soon after arrived off the port, having performed the passage in just nine days. A royal salute from Punchbowl greeted the visitors, which was responded to from the Prussian war ship Vineta and the Vanderbilt. The latter being no sailer and incapable of bringing her in, she anchored outside. Her Majesty came on in the steamer Pele, and landed about 11 o'clock. His Excellency David Kalakaua accompanied her in the King's carriage to the palace. Her Majesty does not appear in so robust health as when she left for England, which is readily accounted for by the events she has passed through during the last few months. The sight of the thousands that flocked to greet her on landing must have been a gratifying one, and indicates the estimation in which she is held by her countrymen.

The same paper says:

We have received a letter by the Vanderbilt on October 22d, dated Boston, Sept. 19th—the former 33 and the latter 32 days in coming through. When the brig H. C. Talbot left Honolulu last April, the second day out, 15 miles to leeward of Waianae, a seaman named H. Hollandlee, a native of Hanover, jumped overboard during the night. He had expressed his regret at leaving Honolulu, and said, "I wonder whether I could swim ashore." His shipmates did not consider him to be in earnest, but the next morning he was missed and doubtless perished in his mad endeavor.

THIRTY YEARS' CAPTIVITY AMONG THE INDIANS.—Thirty years ago, when Jackson was a little hamlet of two or three hundred persons, a young woman might have been seen, one sultry day in August, accompanied by a little boy five years old, wending her way towards a grove in a neighboring town in Blackman, for the purpose of engaging in the common pastime of picking berries. The young woman, after toiling away for a while, became annoyed with the ceaseless importunities of the child, and sent him home. She thought nothing more of the matter till, upon her return in the evening, she was surprised to find that the boy had not returned. In reply to the queries of the anxious parents the girl related the circumstances narrated above, and added that she knew nothing of the whereabouts of the child. Day after day passed, and still the missing member of that distracted family did not return, nor could any tidings of him be heard by his aged parents. Finally, after every searching party who went out to find the missing one had returned and reported their mission fruitless, and after all hope of ever seeing their darling boy again had vanished from the minds of the afflicted parents, suspicion began to fasten upon the young woman who was a servant in the family. She again asserted her innocence, and stated she knew nothing of the missing boy from the time she had sent him homeward. In spite of this protestation, however, she was arrested for the murder of the boy and incarcerated in the ruin look-up which had been erected by the early settlers. Here she was kept for a time, till it became apparent that no evidence against her could be obtained, when she was discharged from custody, still asserting her innocence to the parents of the child, who longed for some tidings that would dispel the uncertainty which hung over them like a cloud. Their hopes were doomed to disappointment, however, as nothing could be heard of the missing one, and he was finally numbered with the dead, the parents giving up all hopes of ever hearing from their lost boy again.

Years passed, and the little hamlet became a large and flourishing city. The solitude which formerly reigned on the banks of the Grand river was broken by the mechanic and artisan, and the air resounded with the busy hum of industry. Nearly all the old settlers had passed away, and another generation succeeded them. Among the many new comers was a son-in-law of the afflicted family, Mr. J. Z. Ballard, our fellow-townsman, who was greatly surprised, a few days since, to learn that the boy who had long been numbered with the dead, had arrived in the southern part of this State, and was making inquiries after his family. The boy had grown to be a stalwart man of thirty-five. His countenance had become bronzed by continuance exposure to the elements, and his sinewy frame hardened by repeated adventures in the Western wilds. He stated that he had but a dim recollection of his former home, but vividly remembered the time when two stalwart forms with red visages crossed his path, snatched him up in their arms, and carried him off amidst his piteous cries for his loving mother. Since that time he has been constantly with the Indians—joined them in their hunting expeditions, and followed their trails as they journeyed toward the setting sun. He learned, to speak the language of the Pottawattamies—for that was the name of the tribe with whom the greater part of his life had been spent—and in answer to his repeated inquiries, his captors told him that they had stolen him from Jackson county, and that his name was Willie. The Indians confounded this name with Filly, which is the real name of his father. Mr. Ballard went in quest of the missing one, and upon arriving at the place where he had been making inquiries, was told that he had gone away, but would return in a few days, when he will proceed to the home of his aged father and mother. Truly, "Truth is stranger than fiction."—Jackson, (Michigan) Citizen.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY { P. M. }
Nov. 30, 1866. }

The receipts of treasure from the mining territories, according to the best information we can get, are hardly so large for this month as during November, 1865, though the sums brought down in private hands (only to part put in circulation here) are greater than ever before. The success of the last season is claimed by the Idaho papers, as more marked than that of any previous year. Its effects, however, upon our local circulation, has been only partially felt as yet.

Money is rather scarce.

Since our last report, there has been an improvement in Legal Tenders of about one cent.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND, November 30, 1866.

The transactions for the week past in the wholesale and jobbing trade have been very fair though without excitement. The shipments up the Columbia have fallen off, but there is a compensating increase in the Willamette valley trade.

We quote Imperial and Magnolia Flour each 50 cents higher; no change in other brands.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, November 30, 1866.

Arrivals from the interior for shipment consist in most part of Flour and Apples. Of these, considerable quantities have accumulated since the sailing of the last steamers. The Oriflamme, which sails for this port on the 1st December, will find a full freight awaiting her.

Apples have declined 25 cents, jobbing. Bacon is from 3 to 4 cents lower. Hams have declined in the same proportion, with very little doing in either. Lard has dropped 2 cents. Hay from the wagon, is $5 higher.

Weekly Retail Family Market.

PORTLAND, November 30, 1866.

In the retail family market prices have generally a declining tendency, with the exception of flour, eggs, and chickens and other poultry. The demand for turkeys is large, for local use and for shipping. Of hams and bacon, there is no new in the market. Butter is abundant and price tends downward. Vegetables continue to arrive in abundance and prices are low. Game is scarce and in demand at quotations. Apples for family use are in demand and prices firm. Very little foreign fruit in the market.

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

PORTLAND, November 30, 1866.

We find the following in the San Francisco reports in relation to Wool:

Wool is dull and prices declining. We quote sales of clean and choice fall clip at 13½@15, and harry, 8@10. During the past week about 60,000 lbs of all descriptions have been sold within this range. Our local factories are supplied, and shipping ship, owing to the continued stagnation in the market East. There is now unsold in this city from 3,000 to 3,500 bales, and the stock is still accumulating, sales not balancing the receipts from the interior.

We have only one change to note in our market—twilled flannel, 10 cents higher.

OREGON WOOLEN GOODS.—Blankets, Oregon grey, No. 2, $8; No 3, $6 50; 8-4 white, 11 lbs, $10. Do. Cattle and Live Stock Market.

PORTLAND, November 30, 1866.

There is an advance in beef, though no difficulty is encountered in procuring supplies on foot. Heavy hogs are in demand at an advance on past quotations.

CATTLE—Best cows and steers, $4 50@5 50 ₱ cwt net.
SHEEP—Good yearling wethers, $2@2 50 ₱ head.
HOGS—Average prices, gross weight, 6 cts. ₱ lb; weighing 175 lbs and upward, neat, 8c ₱ lb.
VEALCALVES—Average, $5@10 ₱ head.

TAKE NOTICE THAT MR. HENDEE is on hands at all hours of the day, and can put up as good work and as great a variety of styles as any Gallery in this city or elsewhere, and cannot but please to my style or number of Cards. Ambrotypes, Ferrotypes, SUN PEARLS, and the wonderful STAR Picture, that dazzles the eye to behold it! Prices to suit any person, high or low, rich or poor. Don't forget the place, AT HENDEE'S NEW GALLERY, Over Shanahan & Dufrene's Music Store, Opposite the Western Hotel, Corner of First and Morrison Streets.

LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Post Office at Portland, Oregon, December 1st, 1866:

If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed with the writer's name, post office, and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.—Sec. 25, Law of 1863.

To Soldiers Claiming Bounties
UNDER THE
EQUALIZATION BOUNTY BILL!
THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING RECENTLY RETURNED from Washington City, where he has made the proper arrangements for the collections of the Extra Bounty of $100 allowed to all soldiers enlisted after the 19th day of April, 1861, for a period of not less than three years, and $50 for soldiers enlisted for a period of not less than two years.
Persons entitled to the benefits of said Bounty will find it to their interest to attend to its collection at once. Having an Agent at Washington, and personal knowledge of the mode of making collections through the Departments, I can get returns promptly.
Call with your Discharge, and two witnesses for identification, at the Publication Office of the Daily Oregonian, No. 5 Washington St., Portland.
A. BUSHWILER, Claim Agent.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28, 1866.

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, September 16, 1866.

1. All applications shall be filed within the period of six months, from the 1st day of October, 1866, and before any payments are made, shall be classified by regiments, battalions, or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2. No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received, nor is he entitled to receive from the United States, under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28, 1866, more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed.

3. All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from deserving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of desertion shall be the same as is now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department.

4. As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment, or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment.

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster Generals office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor, in which the claims presented under the law, in which the claimants will be classified by regiments, etc. If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated.

6. In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant, and also that he never served, otherwise than as herein stated.

7. Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States, or called out for special purposes, as State Militia, Home Guards, etc., and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of this Act.

8. Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war," who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act.

9. The minority of heirs, claiming for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage. Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family, in which case it shall be paid to the mother. Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes:

1. Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged at its expiration.

2. Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3. Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service, but not occasioned by wounds received "in the line of duty," who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge.

4. Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5. The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty.

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who, under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States.

7. The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered, sold, assigned, loaned, transferred, or have not given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress.

8. The Act of the 28th of July, 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which these heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and debars certain classes, brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act.

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law.
EDWIN M. STANTON,
September 14, 1866. Secretary of War.

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law.
HENRY STANBERY,
September 15, 1866. Attorney General.

The foregoing rules and regulations are published for the information and guidance of all concerned.
By order of the Secretary of War.
E. D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant General.
